

Established for over 35 years, we have focused exclusively on providing unbeatable office technology, and although we are a truly national operation, our success has been forged around our unique network of local offices providing on-the-spot response, rapport and reliability.

Communications

Open communication is essential for any business – it keeps staff morale high, encourages good working relationships and makes employees feel comfortable and ready to share and co-operate.

Whether your business is located on a single site or spread across a number, integrated voice and data communication systems are becoming essential, permitting the fast and effective exchange of information.

Whether you have staff located overseas, on the move or based at different offices across the UK, you need to maintain effective and robust communication systems if you are to stay in touch.

VOIP

Using Voice over Internet Protocol (VOIP), we can deliver your phone service through your internet connection, instead of through your analogue phone system. For businesses looking to make and save on long distance calls, VOIP is a cost effective option.

VOIP is available from every part of the world – as long as you have a reliable internet connection, you can use it. It is easily scalable and will grow with you to accommodate your changing business needs.

Unified Communications

Altodigital offers Unified Communications, combining vital services such as telephony, video conferencing, desktop sharing and instant messaging. This empowers employees to work anywhere they need to, any time – creating a truly digital workforce.

Investment in Unified Communications supports the way you work, allowing each and every employee to be contacted in a moment's notice, without any delay.

Gain a competitive edge

Unifying your communications will lead to greater productivity, reduced costs and improved interaction with your customers. By optimising your business communications, your whole business will become much more efficient.

Whether you're a small business with big aspirations, or a large business with multiple arms across the UK, Unified Communications will streamline your business operations and communications.

The significant cost savings you generate through greater efficiencies can be re-invested in your future growth and direction as a business.
